Florida Homeschool Portfolio Checklist

Work down this list once a term and the annual review stops being an event.

Student: _____

School year: _____

- [ ] A dated log of educational activities
  What you covered and which subject it served, written as you go. Reconstructing a year of this in the week before a review is the single most common portfolio scramble.

- [ ] A reading list, by title
  Every book and material named. This is the piece families most often rebuild from memory, and the piece a reviewer can check fastest.

- [ ] Samples of your student's work
  Writings, worksheets, workbooks, and creative work. A few pieces per subject spread across the year reads as evidence; a stack from one good week does not.

- [ ] The assessment or evaluation record
  Florida lets you choose: testing, portfolio, or evaluation. Keep the result filed with the portfolio rather than loose, since the two get asked for together.

- [ ] A copy of anything you filed
  Your notice of intent and any correspondence with the district, dated. If a question ever comes up, dated proof that you filed on time closes it.

What Florida requires

Florida law (§ 1002.41) requires a portfolio containing a contemporaneous log of educational activities — listing reading materials by title — plus samples of the student's writings, worksheets, and creative work. Keep it for two years; the superintendent can request it with 15 days' written notice.

Building this by hand every spring? Homeschool Fox keeps your samples, reading list, and hours together as you go. Start free at homeschoolfox.com.